Ecclesiastical Declarations – Commerce, Banking, Housing, and Property Authority

1. Declaration of Ecclesiastical Financial Sovereignty

This trust maintains its own ecclesiastical banking authority, distinct from all public or corporate institutions.

All instruments of credit, commerce, and value exchange are governed under private trust law and divine covenant.

External commercial codes do not apply to internal trust operations or agreements.

2. Writ of Non-Participation in Federal Reserve and Fiat Systems

The trust rebukes and does not participate in fiat currency systems governed by the Federal Reserve or central banking syndicates.

Transactions and assets are held under ecclesiastical jurisdiction and recorded privately.

Any presumptions of debt, taxation, or commercial enforcement are nullified.

3. Affidavit of Ecclesiastical Financial Immunity

All accounts, holdings, and instruments maintained by the trust are immune to state seizure, garnishment, or regulation.

The financial integrity of this trust is preserved under divine guardianship.

Any interference shall be seen as a spiritual violation and trespass.

4. Declaration of Ecclesiastical Property Stewardship

All lands, dwellings, and properties under this trust are held in stewardship, not ownership, and consecrated to divine purpose.

No government, court, or agency may assert control or taxation over properties entrusted under ecclesiastical charter.

All uses of space, land, or shelter fall under sacred protection.

5. Writ of Rebuttal to Zoning, Permitting, and Land Use Regulations

The trust rejects forced compliance with zoning codes, permits, or land use restrictions issued under secular authority.

Structures and uses of land governed by the trust shall remain private and protected.

No license or external approval is required for sacred dwelling or communal space.

6. Affidavit of Possession by Divine Right

I claim and record all lands and dwellings under the private authority of this trust.

Possession is by divine right and ecclesiastical record, not corporate title or registrar.

No entity may file lien, eviction, or claim against what is sealed in the sacred domain.

Sealed by authority of the Ecclesiastical Private Trust.
